Chief of Detectives Arrests
Two Men Who May Throw
Light on Wholesale Systematic Robberies.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 5.—Two men were arrested Wednesday morning whom Chief of Detectives Stanwell claims have pilfered a number of houses in El Paso during the past few months and considerable stolen property has been recovered.

Police Officer Miller, who is on the Broadway watch, arrested Charles Manning, a negro, and when taken to the police station a grip the negro was carrying was opened and in it were six silk dresses, two new hoodies and a solid gold bracelet. The negro was turned over to the detective department and said that a white man by the name of Carter and himself had stolen a number of houses in El Paso and that they had sold considerable of the stolen stuff in this city. Carter, who has a room in Juarez was arrested by the Juarez police yesterday afternoon and extradition papers will be taken out for the man.

According to a statement made by Manning to the detectives he worked in the laundry of Deputy County Clerk Ed Fowler's apartments, the Williamson rooming house and a number of residences in different parts of the city. The six silk dresses recovered have been worn some and are very expensive apparel. The dresses probably belong to a woman about 5 feet 8 inches tall. One of the dresses has a label, E. A. Robert & Co.

The law of supply and demand is working inexorably in the hog market, prices mounting as the receipts decline. Run here last week was 36,000 head, a long time since this last thing happened. Average prices for the week were 20 cents higher than average previous week, and present prices are 50 to 70 cents higher than any of the values expected at this juncture. Dealers say that pigs are being sacrificed, a fact that lends strength to rumors in the provisions market, particularly hams. Run here is $3.00 today, marked up 10 cents higher, top $3.10, bulk $3.00.

Kansas City Stockyards, Aug. 5.—Killers were in the little alleys early every day last week, and had orders to buy the run. The result was an advancing market all week, with a net gain of 10 to 25 cents on all killing grades. Quarantine cattle held the best attention and the full gain through medium and low priced cattle in the native division were also the object of hard riding by the packers who even invaded the stocker and feeder division and took anything that had a semblance of flesh, down to 300 pounds weight. The supply was 10,000 head larger than the previous week, half of which was quarantine cattle, but it was 17,000 less than the same week last year. Packers cannot keep secret the fact that they need material badly and mischievous receipts of grass cattle usually coming to market at this season, unless cattle are fat owners are being advised to give them a chance to become so, in districts recently parched, as commission men now believe there will be any excessive supply of cattle on the market any time this fall. A good deal of common stuff is intended in the run of 16,000 cattle and 2,000 calves here today. The best end of this liberal supply is selling steady and active, some Kansas fat Colorado steers setting a new high mark for the run on heavy steers at $7.95. Medium and common grass steers are being set back a little today, with the promise of further correction if they keep on coming plentifully, as killers avow, and with reason, that that kind has been the most expensive beef they have had to handle. Two hundred cars of quarantine cattle arrived here today, the biggest run of that class since three weeks ago today, marked on steers week to 10 cents lower, cows and calves steady. Wintered native steers sell at $5.50 to $6.20, through steers $4.50 to $5.25, some Old Mexicans today at $4.60, quarantine steers $4.15 to $5.75, grass cows $12.50 to $13.75, top veal $7.00, steaks and feeders lost 10 to 25 cents last week, steady to weak today, steaks at $2.25 to $2.50, feeders $4.50 to $5.40.
